VOLUME THIRTY-TWO

THE DOME

PUBLISHED BY THE JUNIOR CLASS OF
NOTRE DAME UNIVERSITY, NOTRE DAME, IND.

Frank Reppenhagen, Editor

James Raaf, Managing Editor

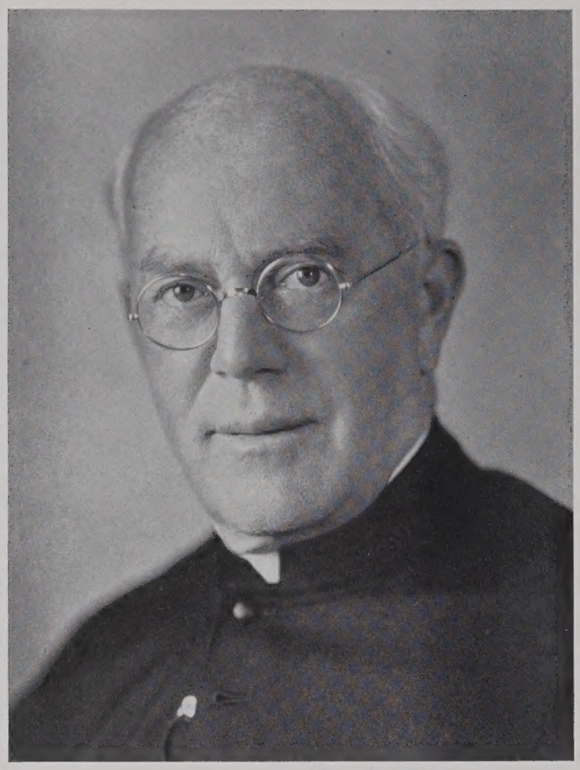

THEME

To the Log Chapel, low and small yet solid by the lakes. . . . To picturesque Sorin, long-standing and long-loved. . . . To the New Quads, bright beneath the Dome. . . .

To the old, substantial places, sustaining a past of distinction. . . . To the new, modern structures, inspiriting the ancient, and prefiguring fresher life and hardier powers. . . .

To this old and young university and all the vitality that composes it in every age, this book is signed.

DEDICATION

To Father Farley, whose love for the students has inspired them to live in the Spirit of Notre Dame, we dedicate the 1938 Dome.

THE DOME

AWARD OF RECOGNITION

The Dome honors the four Seniors selected by the Committee on Award as most outstanding in the field of extra curricular activities. The Dome honors these men with full confidence. Even before any thought was given to the selection of the four graduates, much thought was given to the selection of eighteen Juniors whom the Dome considered best qualified to act as the Committee on Award. These Juniors were chosen from prominent campus organizations, from the Scholastic and the Dome, from the Managers Organization, from the S. A. C., and from each of the five colleges. Before voting, the Committee considered carefully the record of each Senior suggested for award. The record of his participation in athletics, publications, class offices, managers organization and clubs was examined. Then the Committee voted, selecting those four men whose records were most outstanding. The Dome presents their selections on the following pages.

In the four years that Elmer F. Layden has been head football coach at Notre Dame, his teams have won 25 games, lost 8 and tied 3. The slim Iowan who played fullback with Rockne's "Four Horsemen" came to the University in December 1933 after the resignation of "Hunk" Anderson. His success in raising the record of Notre Dame football almost to the level of the Rockne era at its best, is a great tribute to his ability as a football technician and a builder of men. No small credit for this achievement does he give to his able assistants, all of whom played for Notre Dame at some time during the period from 1915 to 1930. These included Joseph M. Boland, line coach; Donald C. (Chet) Grant, backfield coach; Joseph Benda, end coach, and William J. Cerney, "B" squad coach.

THE 1937 FOOTBALL SEASON

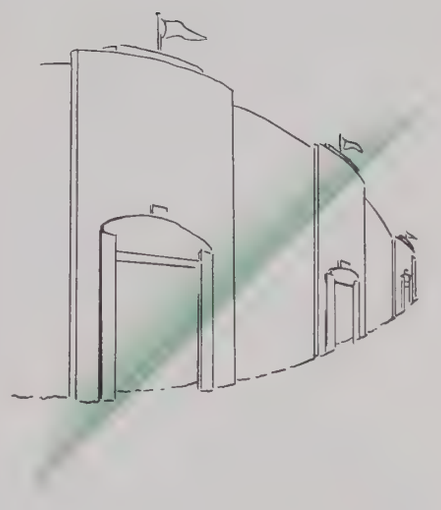

Followers of Notre Dame football looked toward the 1937 season with no little trepidation. Many thought the team would be extremely fortunate to win the majority of its nine games. Eight regulars and two alternates from the 1926 varsity had been lost by graduation, and with but a small nucleus of experienced men, Notre Dame faced one of the toughest schedules in history. However, before the season was over, Head Coach Elmer Layden had moulded out of a motley crowd of green recruits one of the hardest fighting teams ever to represent the Gold and Blue. A glance at any of the games reveals the same story, the tale of a fighting football team, not great in the record books, but great in its own way —the way of real Notre Dame men. Yet the records themselves are no discredit to anyone. An average of 8.55 points a game as against 5.44 for the opponents shows a marked superiority. And a total of 6 victories, 2 defeats, one tie, is certainly good enough to be proud of. Consequently, the 1937 Notre Dame varsity could be designated by no more apt name than that which is theirs by heritage and tradition—"Fighting Irish."

1938 VARSITY SQUAD

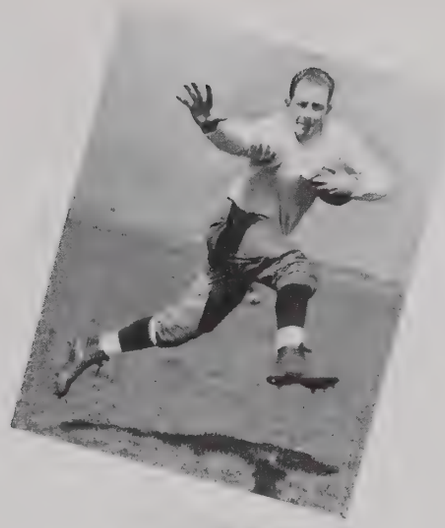

From this sturdy squad of 125 freshmen will come many of the reserves, and possibly some of the regulars who must bolster the depleted ranks of the varsity. This largest of all frosh teams at Notre Dame spent most of their first season learning the fundamentals of the Notre Dame system. Head freshman coach Clarence J. (Jake) Kline, assisted by Henry F. Pojman, Stephen C. Miller, and Joseph P. McMahon has brought them along to the point where they will be taken over by head coach Elmer Layden and his assistants for development into varsity material. The potentialities of this group of green shirted lads will only be known in ensuing seasons.

When the Drake Bulldogs invaded the Notre Dame Stadium, the resulting conflict was analogous to Irish performances the rest of the season. In the matter of scores, the Irish gained more points than in any other single game all season. But their great ability to fight, especially defensively, was foreshadowed as early as this first game. Seven times Notre Dame had a chance to score. Only three times did she succeed. Nevertheless, the game was played almost entirely in Drake territory with the Irish in possession of the ball the greater part of the time. A McCarthy to McCormick pass accounted for the first touchdown. McCarthy slipped off tackle and ran 85 yards himself for the second. Tonelli plunged three yards for the last. And thus was the victory well-earned.

The fight of the Irish was not great enough to overcome the immobility of the Illini in Memorial stadium at Champaign. One Irishman, however, showed enough aggressiveness to earn himself a first team berth for the rest of the season. Right End Chuck Sweeney played with all the fire of his fighting Irish heart, and his reward was well-deserved. Though both teams shone defensively, the Irish had but one chance to score, while the Illini found two. The Notre Dame drive ended on the 12 yard line in the second quarter. Illinois attempted field goals in the first and fourth quarters, only to have the ball bound ineffectively under the cross bar. For Illinois it was perhaps a moral victory; for the Irish, a great fight.

A Notre Dame team that seemed at times to be all fought out bowed to the Skibos in Pitt stadium. Seven times Irish drive put the ball before the Carnegie goal. Only once was the last ounce of energy there to put it over. Napotnik plunged for the Skibo touchdown shortly after the game had started. Conversion failed and the Irish began to take heart. On the fourth jaunt into Carnegie territory, McCarthy passed to McCormick for a touchdown. Puplis kicked the point, and the Irish settled down to fight for their slim lead. Late in the third quarter, however, a Notre Dame pass was knocked into the air and recovered by Skibo Kawchak. Although Irish fight held Carnegie for three plays, the fourth attempt saw Coleman Kopcsak kick a successful field goal for the winning score. Aggressively, the Irish made one more magnificent effort. It was stopped at the one foot line, and Notre Dame lost.

Perhaps the Carnegie victory was all the Irish needed to revive their fighting spirit. Anyway, not even a blinding snowstorm could prevent their downing Navy in the Notre Dame Stadium. A Middy score in the first quarter after Thesing had fumbled would have disheartened any team. Notre Dame came back in the second half stronger than ever. So powerful was the Irish revival of spirits that late in the game McCarthy's 38 yard run together with Puplis' conversion tied the score. Then Puplis took a punt and squirmed 53 yards to the Middy 9 yard line, where McCormick fumbled. Again, any but a superb fighting outfit would have quit. However, as Middy McFarland tried to kick out of danger, Irishman Sweeney tackled him (see picture above) for a safety and an extremely well-earned victory.

NOTRE DAME 7
MINNESOTA 6

The climax of a fighting season was reached that sunny Saturday afternoon on the greensward of Memorial Stadium in Minneapolis. A Notre Dame team has seldom showed more fight anywhere, anytime. Early in the game Andy Puplis scored from the 4 yard line on a quarterback sneak. This marked the first time that anyone had scored through the Minnesota line since Bernie Bierman had come to coach the Gophers. Puplis also kicked the point, and Minnesota was mad. Their complicated lateral forward scored soon afterward. Gopher supporters smiled. But they reckoned without the fight of an Irishman named Sweeney who specialized in smothering kicks. Faust never got the ball off his foot, and the Irish settled down to protect their slim lead. The Notre Dame line superhumanly fought off innumerable Minnesota drives—and again their fightingness had made it "a great day for the Irish."

For three quarters the Irish fought their hearts out. Their defensive feats were comparable to any previous ones. They even managed to push over a touchdown, when McCarthy, standing on the Pitt 46 yard line lofted a pass to Puplis on the twenty, and the latter scored easily. Soon however, Panther claws began to dig deeper, and before the end of the game, three Pitt touchdowns had been scored. Captain Patrick scored twice, Stebbins once. Souchak kicked three extra points. The Irish fought all the way yet it could be seen that the battles of the two previous weeks had taken their toll, and the Panthers found little glory in this decisive victory.

Although the score does not represent the relative strength of Notre Dame and Army, it does indicate their respective fighting abilities. Midway in the first quarter the Irish scored their inevitable touchdown. After Beinor had recovered an Army fumble on the Cadet 14 yard line, Simonich in three plays crossed the Army goal. The rest of the game was played in Army territory with the Irish fighting to protect their lead and the Cadets fighting just as hard to erase it. Puplis' running in the rain and mud of Yankee Stadium kept the Cadets constantly at bay, and the fight of the Irish chalked up another victory.

On a bitterly cold November day, the Irish invaded Dyche Stadium, and before the final gun sounded the inevitability of an Irish one touchdown victory had well displayed itself. In the second quarter Jefferson was forced to punt from behind his own goal line. Before the kick had gotten away, half the fighting Irish line was upon him, and Alec Shellogg batted the ball high in the air. Chuck Sweeney caught it and stepped three yards to the goal line. Then came the same tooth-and-nail battle to protect the lead. And Puplis running repeatedly from punt formation again kept the opponents from within striking distance while his mates broke up every attempt of the Wildcats at long range scoring. It was another primarily defensive game, won by the sheer doggedness of the Irish fight.

NOTRE DAME 13
Southern California 7

The fiftieth anniversary of Notre Dame football was celebrated in the Notre Dame Stadium when the Trojans bowed before a final display of Irish aggressiveness. It was appropriate enough too, that the game went scoreless until Southern California put over a touchdown in the third quarter. Then the Irish had an ideal setting to show the stuff of which they were made. And they did, when Puplis, again running from punt formation galloped 58 yards to tie the score. He missed the conversion, and it looked like everyone concerned would have to be satisfied with a deadlock. However again the Irish fight was to be reckoned with, and Tonelli broke loose for 68 yards to the Trojan 8 yard line. From there he took it over on the next play, and the fiftieth season for the Irish was closed with the same fight that opened it.

Coach George E. Keogan

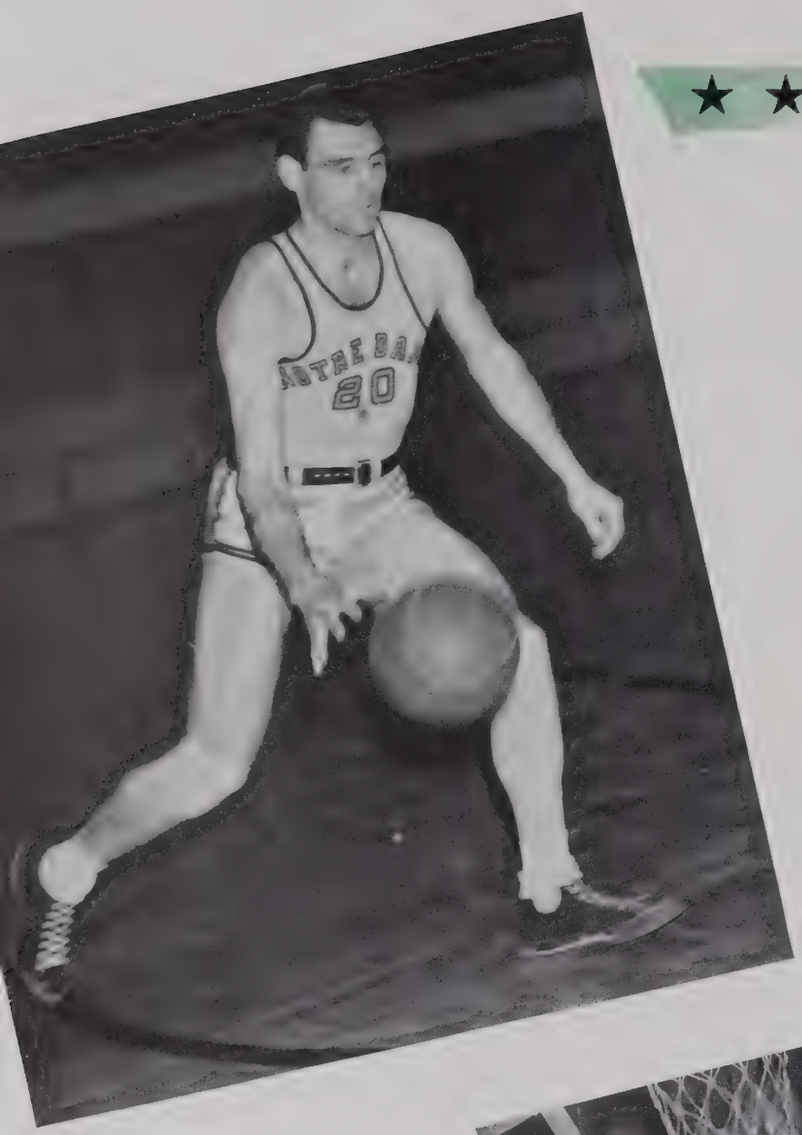

In his undergraduate days at the University of Minnesota George E. Keogan had ambitions to be a dentist. He did become a dentist, but by that time his ambitions had changed, and he decided he liked coaching basketball better. Giving up dentistry, he became a full time basketball coach. Before long he had established a reputation for himself, his Valparaiso teams won 51 games and lost 5. At Central High School, LaCrosse, Wisconsin, he won 28 games and lost 4. At St. Thomas College in St. Paul he won 18 out of 19 games. In 1923 he came to Notre Dame to attempt a renovation of Irish basketball which was at that time in the doldrums. The previous six Notre Dame teams had won only 32 out of 96 games. He was a great personal friend of Rockne, and took over in addition to basketball duties, the posts of baseball and assistant football coach. He was immediately successful in putting Irish basketball on a winning basis. He has continued so. In 15 years, his Irish basketball teams won 252 games, lost 72 and tied one for a percentage of .777. So great have been his teams of the past two years, that they have been acclaimed almost unanimously winners of the mythical national championship.

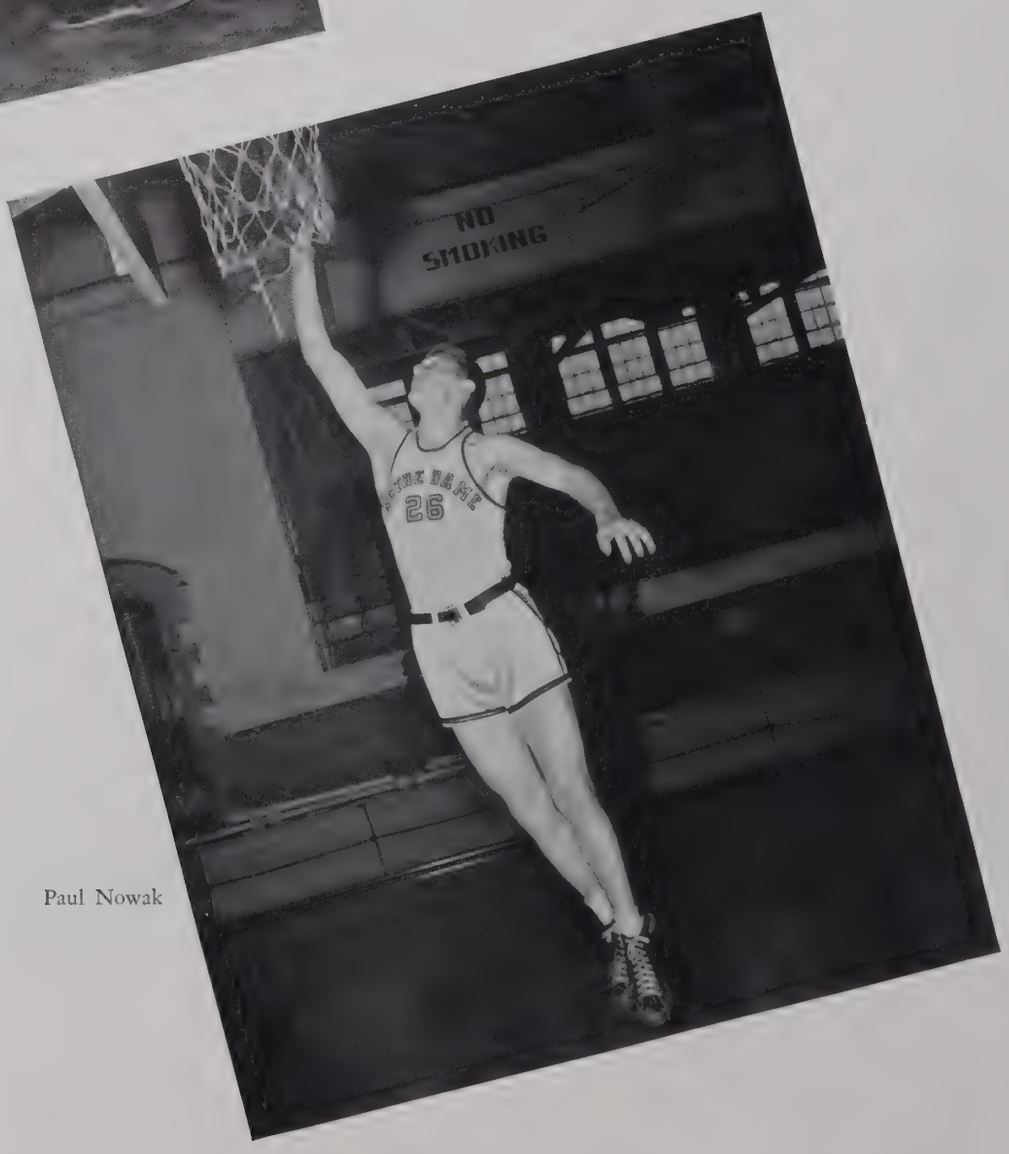

Captain Ray Meyer

★★ ALL AMERICAN

Johnny Moir

Johnny Moir and Paul Nowak represent probably the greatest combination of basketball abilities ever to represent the Irish. Moir's deadly accuracy enabled him to set three new scoring records in as many years of varsity competition. In his sophomore year his 260 points was the largest total ever made in one year by a Notre Dame cager. Against Pittsburgh that same year he established a new record for total points made by an individual in one game, with 25. His three year aggregate of 780 points is also a record total for individual scoring. On the other hand much of Moir's effectiveness would have been lost without Nowak to feed him, to take the ball off the backboard, and break up opponents' plays. Nowak was second only to Moir in scoring, and so great was his all-around play that he was even picked as first team center on an all-time All American. On the whole there was little to choose between these two great players. Neither would have been nearly so effective without the other. Together they were an invincible combination—one that Notre Dame will not soon forget.

THE 1937-1938 SQUAD

The 1937-38 varsity basketball squad made exactly the same record as its predecessor, 20 victories, 3 defeats, and a national championship. However, this is not unusual, because the personnel of the squad for the past two years has remained practically static. De Mots and Allen were the only members of the 1936-37 outfit lost by graduation, and sophomores Ellis, Ertel, and Klier more than balanced this loss by greatly augmenting Irish reserve strength. Senior monogram men were Captain Meyer, Crowe, Jordan, Moir, Nowak, and Wukovits. Brown, DuCharme, and Sadowski are the only returning lettermen.

NOTRE DAME	49
COLUMBIA	18

The Fighting Irish basketball team opened its defense of the national championship by outclassing the valiant Columbia College team in the Notre Dame fieldhouse. The veteran combination of Captain Meyer, Sadowski, Nowak, Jordan, and Wukovits ran up 26 points in the first half, and then retired in favor of a reserve quintet which did almost as well both offensively and defensively as its predecessors. Tommy Wukovits, senior guard, was high point man, gathering five field goals, three free throws. For the Duhawks, Johnny Paul was outstanding on offense with four field goals and a free throw. The game was just a warm-up for Coach Keogan's outfit, but it served a very good purpose in uncovering weaknesses as well as new reserve material.

NOTRE DAME	43
BALL STATE	28

A clever team from Ball State Teachers opposed the Irish in their second game, and caused the veteran Notre Dame team no small worry before they retired from the court. The Irish had six points advantage at the half, although by the end of the game they had increased it to 16. Eddie Sadowski copped the scoring honors with four baskets and two foul shots. Rudicel, who played a superb defense game at guard, also led his team in scoring with a triad of goals and charity shots. This game marked the first appearance of Johnny Moir, the high scoring forward, who was injured before the season opened and as a result was unable to take part in the Columbia game.

NOTRE DAME	60
WESTERN STATE	21

For the first time in the 1937-38 season, the Irish really opened up, when they met Western State Teachers. A 31 point lead at the half allowed them to coast in on reserve strength. Notable in this encounter was All American Johnny Moir's return to form with 16 points in 15 minutes of play. Also of note was the fact that the captain-elect of the 1938-39 squad, Earl Brown, made his first start of the season in this game. Football prevented him from taking part in early practice, so that he was unable to start the season as a regular.

NOTRE DAME	33
WISCONSIN	31

Wisconsin was the next foe to fall before the wheels of the great Keogan machine. But the Badgers did not submit until they had given the Irish national champions one of the largest scares of their collective basketball careers. Losing 31-27, with 9 minutes to go Keogan substituted the little Mike Crowe for the erratic Moir. Mike sank a long one, then drew a free shot which he purposely bounded off the backboard. Nowak took the ball, passed to Sadowski, and the latter scored to tie up the game. Nowak, seconds later, dropped in a long shot for the winning points.

NOTRE DAME	30
NORTHWESTERN	27

Continuing their careless tactics, the Irish squeezed out a victory over Northwestern just before the holidays. One of the roughest games ever played in the Notre Dame fieldhouse saw 28 personal fouls called. Three men left the game for this reason. There was no individual high scorer. Moir, Nowak, Wukovits, and Wildcat Captain Trenkle had seven points each. The Irish led by 6 points at the half, and only three at the finish. Coach Keogan stuck to his first string combination of Moir, Sadowski, Nowak, Brown, and Wukovits throughout practically the whole game, making only three substitutions and these in the last minutes. The game was marked throughout with the sluggishness which was eventually to cause the first Irish defeat in 20 games.

NOTRE DAME	45
XAVIER	26

The time for this defeat had not yet arrived when the Irish travelled to Louisville to down Xavier University. This was an easy triumph, with the Keogan men leading all the way and coasting in under reserve power. Nowak won high point honors with 6 field goals. Moir and Kucia of Xavier next with 9 points each. Notre Dame ran up a 24-14 lead in the first half, and increased to 20 points before the end of the game. Every member of the squad of 14 men which made the trip played in this 19th consecutive Notre Dame victory.

NOTRE DAME	32
ILLINOIS	33

The trip to Illinois ended fatally the hopes of an undefeated season when the Irish bowed to the Illini. It was the first defeat suffered by the Keoganmen in 20 starts, but the disappointing aspect of this loss was the fact that the Irish outplayed Illinois from the field. They scored 15 field goals while holding the Illini to 11, only to fall short at the foul line, sinking 2 out of 8, as their opponents made good 11 times in 13 tries. The score was tied 15-15 at the half, and 30-30 at the end of the regulation playing time. In the overtime period Sadowski scored first for the Irish from the floor, only to have this nullified by Illini forward Boudreau's field goal and foul.

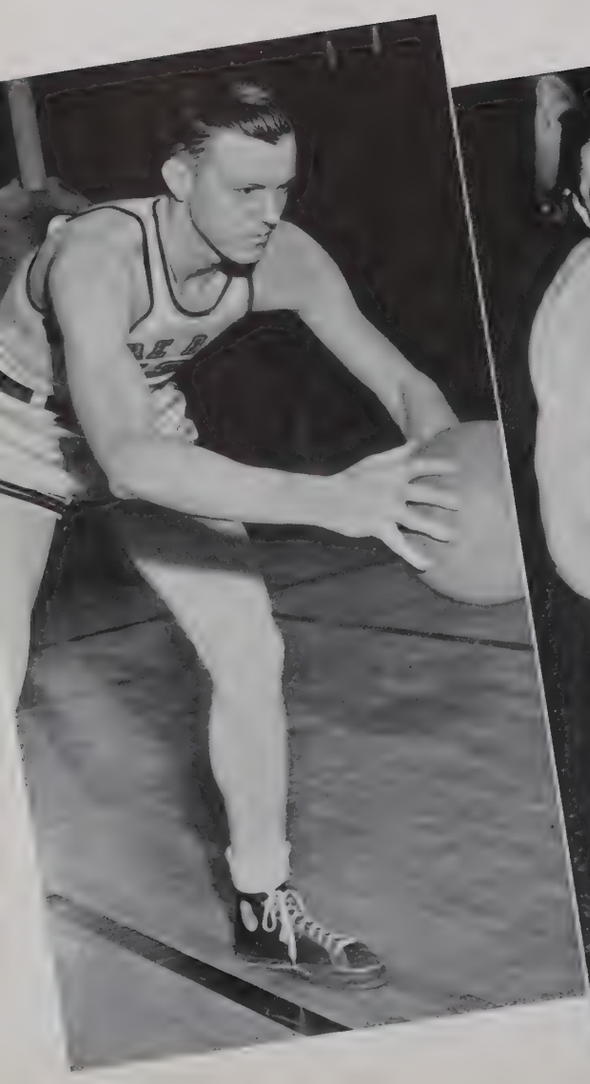

NOTRE DAME	40
NORTHWESTERN	29

The traditional encounter with the Northwestern Wildcats in Patten Gym on New Year's Eve presented the Irish with their first opportunity to show the fighting ability which earned them their name. Trailing the whole first half so that they went into the intermission with an 8 point deficit, they came back in the second period to outfight the Wildcats and really earn the victory. Vance's field goal and two free throws were all that Northwestern got in the second half, while Notre Dame scored 23 points. Moir earned high scoring honors with 5 baskets and a free throw.

NOTRE DAME	25
MINNESOTA	37

Notre Dame had hardly gotten another winning streak started when Minnesota crushed the Irish for their second defeat of the season. The Keoganmen could not get started against Minnesota and trailed all the way. The score was 18-12 at the half, but the Gophers kept right on and increased their lead to 13 points before the final gun sounded. Maki's 11 points was high for Minnesota, and Moir's 6 led the Irish.

NOTRE DAME	45
PENNSYLVANIA	25

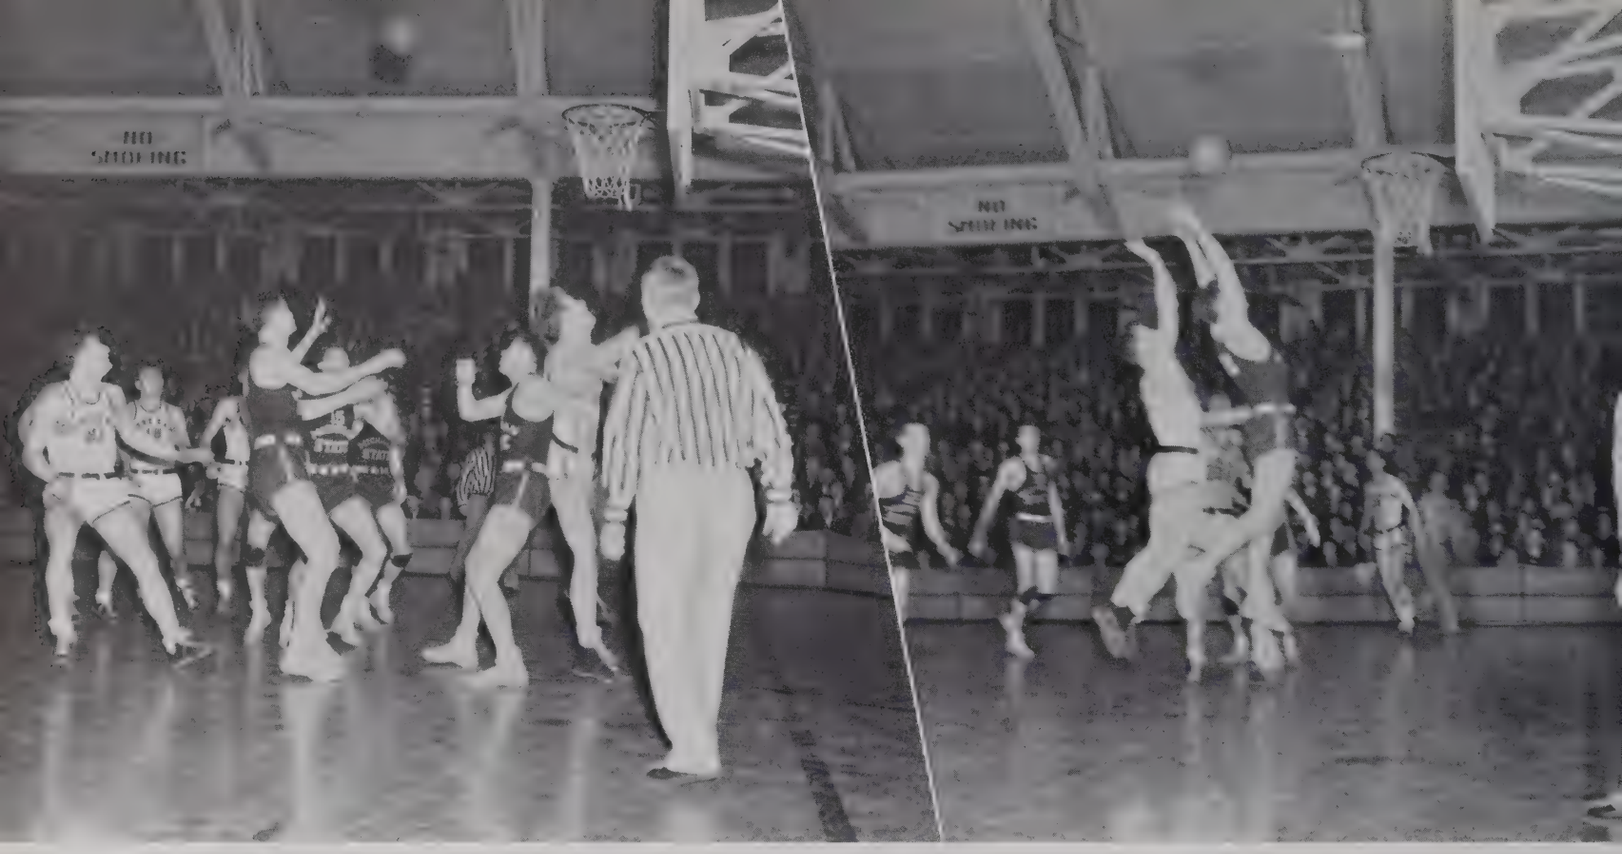

When the Irish returned to form to crush Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, it was the tenth consecutive defeat the Penn cagers had suffered at the hands of Keogan-coached Notre Dame teams. The renovated Keoganmen with Wukovits and Sadowski at forwards, Nowak at center, Jordan and Brown at guards, demonstrated their superiority from the opening tipoff. They led 27-13 at the half and maintained only a slightly slower pace throughout the second half. Sadowski proved his right to a starting position by sinking 7 field goals and three free throws for high point honors. Again every Notre Dame man who made the trip played at some time during the game.

NOTRE DAME	57
CANISIUS	33

Continuing their successful eastern tour, the Irish gained a decisive victory over Canisius at Buffalo, N. Y. Again Notre Dame took the lead early and was never headed. All-American Johnny Moir, playing before a delegation from his home town, Niagara Falls, N. Y., sank 8 field goals and 3 free throws, proving his right to the designation as the greatest scoring forward Notre Dame has ever had. Nowak, Wukovits, and Brown with eight points each were next in line for scoring honors.

NOTRE DAME	47
KENTUCKY	37

Returning home after their triumphant Eastern trip, the Irish met and disposed of Kentucky in a pitched battle. Only four points separated the teams at the half, but Notre Dame increased this lead to ten before the game was over. Moir had his best night all season, sinking 7 goals and 6 free throws for 20 points. The second half of the game was marked particularly by roughness on both sides, but only Rosse of Kentucky was ejected on fouls. The victory ran the new Irish string, which started against Pennylvania, to three games.

NOTRE DAME	51
PITTSBURGH	41

Travelling again into the East, the Irish held off Panther attacks for 40 minutes, and ended up with a well-earned victory. Leading 24-16 at the half, they maintained the same pace through the last period and thus retaliated in some measure for the suffering caused by the Panther football team last fall. Spotovich of Pitt led the scoring with 14 points. Sadowski followed closely with 11. To Moir and DuCharme goes much credit for the victory, for they were most effective when the going was toughest. As usual Nowak's defensive game stood out.

NOTRE DAME	39
BUTLER	26

Butler's Bulldogs visited the Notre Dame fieldhouse, anticipating a chance to bark. However, a second half spurt, led by Tommy Wukovits, removed their pugnacity, and sent them home "tail-between-legs" fashion. Leading by one point at the intermission, Butler's set-play offensive caught up with them in the second half, and slowed them down so that the Irish were able to finish 13 points to the good. Wukovits' 8 points led the scoring, the general trend of which was marked by numerous shots missed and out of bounds plays.

NOTRE DAME	50
ST. LOUIS U.	25

A veritable whirlwind offensive by St. Louis University started off the next game with a four point advantage. But the Irish soon hit their stride and changed this to a 25 point decision in their favor before the final gun went off. O'Sullivan of the visitors tied with Moir and Nowak of the Irish for high point honors. These three men scored 9 points each. St. Louis was ostensibly tired out in the second half, and the Irish consequently scored almost at will, accumulating 29 points in the second period. The victory enabled Notre Dame to maintain its string of victories which had remained unbroken since the defeat by Minnesota in the first week in January.

NOTRE DAME	51
PITTSBURGH	17

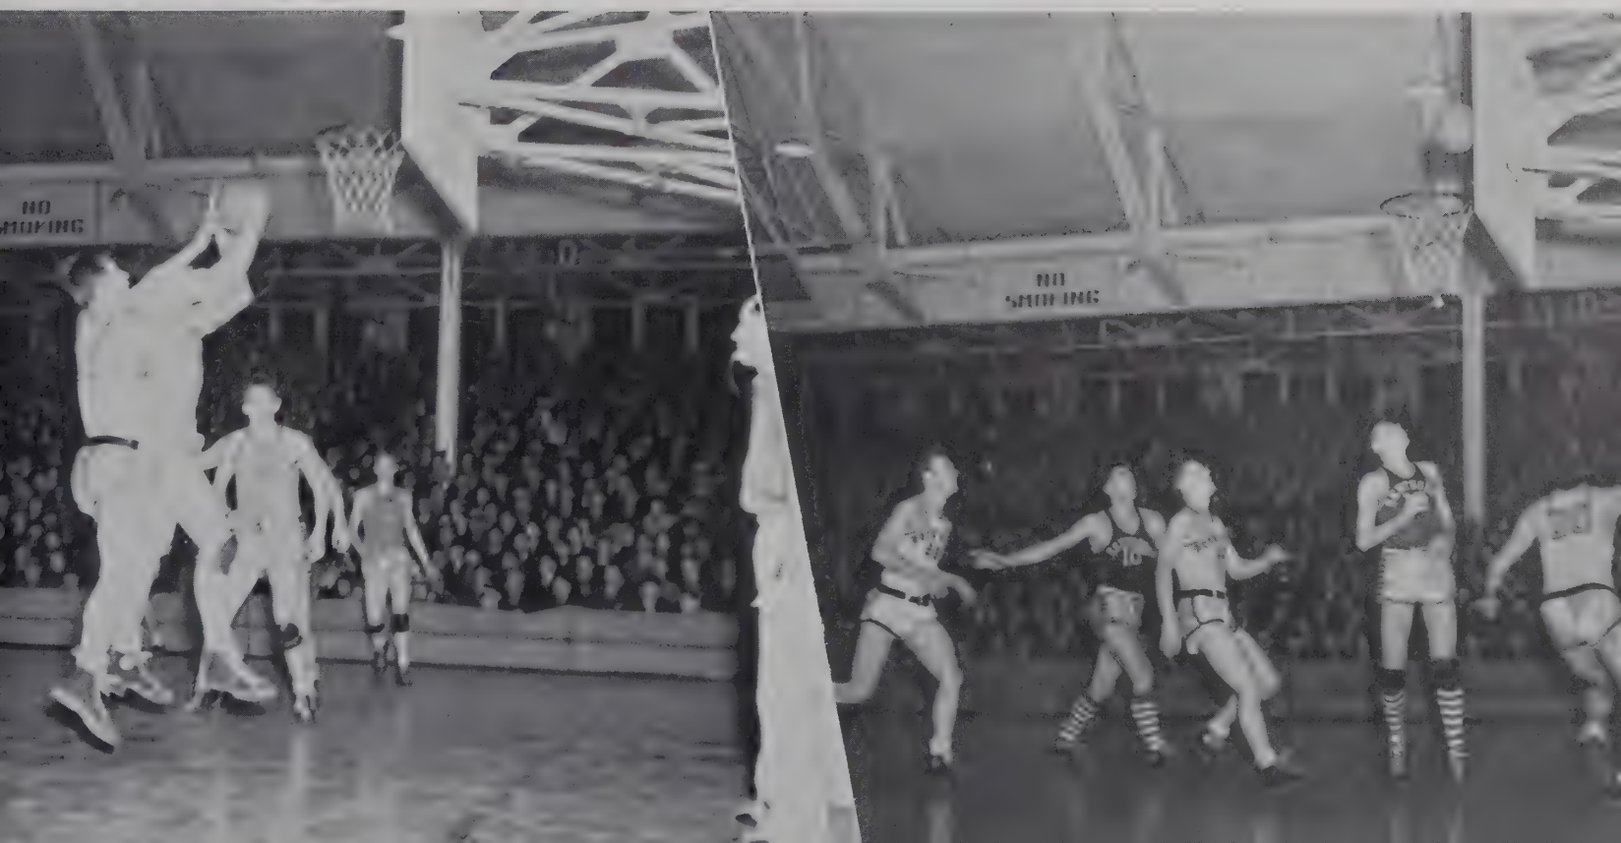

The second Notre Dame victory over Pittsburgh marked the occasion of breaking off relations between the Irish and the Panthers. It was indeed an auspicious occasion for this noteworthy event to take place, for the crushing defeat, which the Panthers suffered, more than atoned for their more stinging victories over the Irish in other branches of athletics. No one man on the Notre Dame team can be singled out to be credited with this victory. Moir was high scorer but Sadowski, Nowak, Brown, and Wukovits all contributed points. The last three were outstanding defensively, but Moir and Sadowski did their share of intercepting passes and breaking up Panther plays. This was Notre Dame's thirteenth victory in fifteen games, and its seventh in a row.

NOTRE DAME	43
MARQUETTE	45

Perhaps the Irish played themselves out against Pitt. Perhaps Marquette played over its head. In any case, the Hilltoppers found the last extra ounce of energy which the Irish lacked, and managed to eke out a one-basket victory. In the first period, the lead changed hands twice and finally rested with Notre Dame at the intermission. The second half saw Marquette forge ahead 33-28, only to be overhauled by Notre Dame. After the Irish had gone ahead 38-36, alternate goals tied the score three times. Finally Hilltopper Paul Sokody dropped in a long shot with but 30 seconds to play, and the margin was enough to beat the Irish.

NOTRE DAME	45
BUTLER	22

A second encounter with Butler, this time at Indianapolis, ended almost exactly the same way as the first. The only difference between the two games lay in the fact that Notre Dame took a large lead early, and never lost it. 25-8 was the score at the half, and the Irish subs very nearly duplicated this ratio in the last period. Eighteen men were used by Coach Keogan, Shields, Wagner, and Emmett Crowe making their first varsity appearances. This victory was Notre Dame's fifteenth in 18 games, and ninth in a row over Butler.

NOTRE DAME	48
MICHIGAN STATE	32

The Spartans from Michigan State, after an alarming first half spurt, slowed down in the last period to become Notre Dame's sixteenth victim of the 1937-38 season. Although the Irish jumped off to a commanding lead, State had cut it down to a mere 2 points at half time. The second half, however, found the Notre Dame outfit working smoothly while the Spartans bogged down. Inability to break through the tight inner defenses of the Irish forced Michigan to confine their scoring attempts to long shots. And this was the cause of the Spartan downfall. For while Notre Dame scored at will, Michigan State had to be content with a few scattered goals. Thus did Keoganmen achieve their sixteenth victory of the season.

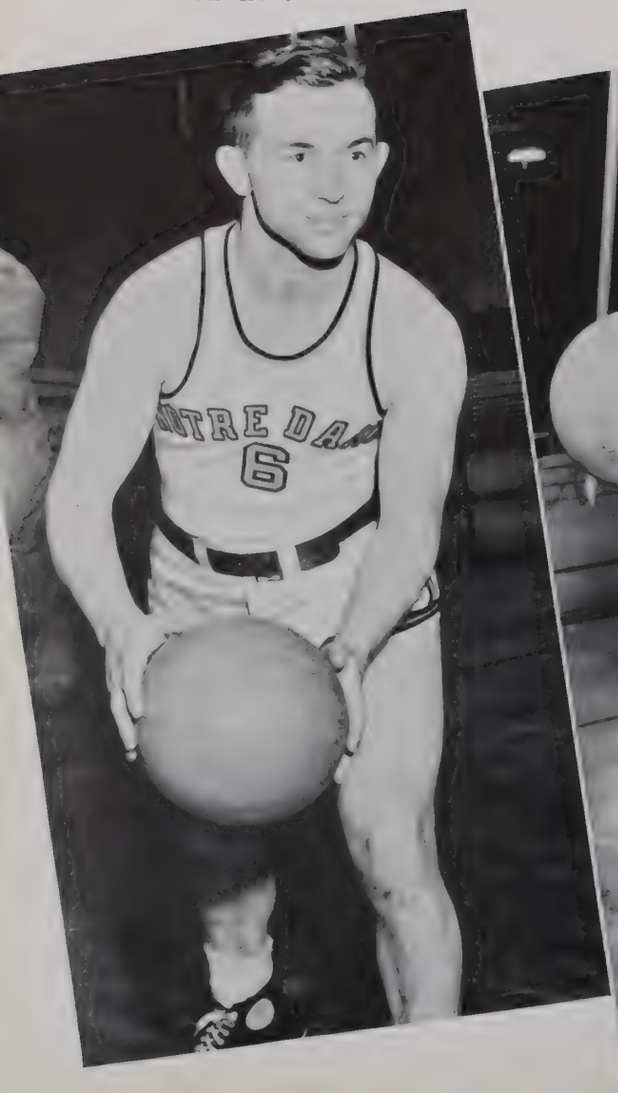

NOTRE DAME	50
NEW YORK UNIVERSITY	38

The second Eastern tour taken by the Irish was just as successful as the first one. The annual game with the New York University Violets was played for the third time before a capacity crowd in Madison Square Garden. And for the third time, the Irish gained a decisive victory over the Violets besides forcing all New York to admit that they were one of the greatest teams of all time. After trailing by nine points in the early part of the game, Notre Dame jumped to a 9 point advantage at the half, and 12 points before the final gun went off. Moir was high point man with 5 field goals and four free throws, and Nowak played one of the greatest games of his career.

The second stop on the Eastern trip saw the Irish defeat Colgate in the Armory at Albany. The previous night's hard game with New York University had taken its toll, and the Keoganmen started very slowly. At the intermission they led by only three points, and once during the second half, Colgate took over the lead. However, it was not long before the Irish were again on top, and when the game ended, they had built up a comfortable lead. Eddie Sadowski, playing before a delegation of his home town friends, dropping in 6 field goals and 4 free throws for high scoring honors, besides playing one of the greatest defensive games of his career.

Meeting Marquette in the last game of the season in the Notre Dame fieldhouse, the Irish reversed their previous experience with the Hilltoppers, and decisively trounced them. For a while it looked as if the game would be a repetition of the struggle at Milwaukee. Notre Dame led 16-15 at the half. But the Keoganmen forged ahead and throughout the second period the outcome was never much in doubt. Nine Irish seniors played their last game on the home court. Three of them, Moir, Nowak, and Wukovits—had been regulars since their sophomore year. The rest—Captain Meyer, Mike Crowe, Jordan, Carson, O'Connor, and Shields—represented some of the greatest reserve strength Coach Keogan has ever had. Every one of them played in this, their last appearance before their fellow students.

The final game of the season was played against Detroit University in the Naval Armory at Detroit. It was Notre Dame's twentieth victory of the season, out of twenty-three games. The Irish trailed as much as 5 points at one time in the first half, but by intermission time, had gained a 21-18 lead. In the second half they were never headed. Moir closed his varsity career by gathering five baskets for high point honors. Brown, Wukovits, and Detroit center Calihan followed closely with 9 points each. For the veterans on the team this was their 62d. victory out of 70 games over a period of three years, a record almost unequalled in the history of basketball.

THE FRESHMAN SQUAD

Eugene J. (Scrapiron) Young, familiarly known as "Scrap" to hundreds of Notre Dame athletes in the last nine years, has the official capacity of trainer for all the various Notre Dame athletic teams. But "Scrap" is more than that. He is the friend and confidential adviser of almost every lad who wears the Gold and Blue in competition. He was graduated from Notre Dame in 1926, and spent the next four years as coach and athletic director of St. Catherine's High School in Racine, Wisconsin. Then Rockne himself brought "Scrap" back to his alma mater, and he has been here ever since. It is to Rock also that "Scrap" owes his nickname. One day Rock saw him set up the bleachers for a track-meet on Cartier field, win the one and two mile races, and then take them down. Rock is quoted as having said, "That guy is as tough as scrapiron." The nickname has stuck with him ever since.

CAPTAIN WILLIAM MAHONEY

After the mediocre 1937 outdoor track season in which injuries constantly prevented the Irish from competing at full strength, the 1938 indoor track team proved to be the finest in Notre Dame history. Coach John P. Nicholson, who has always taken particular pride in the balanced teams he produces, reached the height of his success when this year's indoor team won the Central Intercollegiate Conference Championship with 56 points spread evenly through every event. Outstanding performances of last year's outdoor season were Greg Rice's new N.C.A.A. record of 9:14.2 in the two mile, Bill Faymonville's Notre Dame record of 155 feet in the discus against Ohio State, Dan Gibb's Notre Dame pole vault record of 13 feet 6 inches against Ohio State, and Bill Clifford's 9.6 hundred against Navy. The long list of exceptionally fine indoor records includes Greg Rice's C.C.C. record of 9:19 in the two mile, John Francis' Notre Dame record of 1:55.4 in the half mile against Indiana, Bill Clifford's record-tying 6.2 60 yard dash against Illinois, Dan Gibb's Notre Dame pole vault record of 13 feet 8¾ inches against Illinois, and Joe Beinor's shot put heave of 48 feet 6 inches which placed third at the Butler Relays. The eight valuable men lost by graduation this June are Captain Bill "T-bone" Mahoney, Bill Clifford, John Francis, Pete Sheehan, Dan Gibbs, Hal Langton, Gene Gormley, and Ed Bernard.

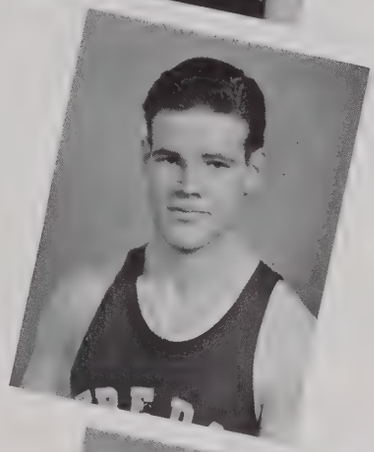

On April 23, 1937, the Notre Dame track team opened its outdoor season with the DRAKE RELAYS at Des Moines. The only bright spot of the meet for the Irish was the victory of Dan Gibbs in the pole vault. Bill Faymonville got a fourth in the discus throw with a good toss of 147 feet, but Notre Dame failed to place in any of the relay races.

The following Saturday the Irish made their first home appearance in a dual meet with PITTSBURGH. The score at the end of the regulation events was tied at 63-63, but Johnny Woodruff, the Olympic 800 meter champion, broke the tape for the third time that afternoon when he anchored his team to victory in a play-off mile relay. Bill Faymonville won both the discus and the shot put, but the 11 points Dan Gibbs scored on a pole vault victory and seconds in both the low hurdles and the javelin made him high man of the meet. Bill Clifford in the 100 yard dash, Faymonville in the discus, and Steve Szumachowski in the two mile all broke meet records.

The following week Notre Dame sank the NAVY by a decisive 74-52 score. Bill Faymonville set Notre Dame, Cartier Field, and meet records when he heaved the discus 149 feet 4½ inches. Arch Gott's 4:25 mile and Steve Szumachowski's 9:36.2 two mile both lowered meet marks. With a leap of 13 feet Dan Gibbs tied the meet and field records in the pole vault, and then placed second in both the low hurdles and the broad jump to become high man with 11 points for the second successive week. The best performance of the afternoon was given by Bill Clifford who spent only 9.6 seconds from the time he bolted from the blocks with a perfect start until he broke the tape 100 yards away.

At Columbus one evening OHIO STATE took eight of fourteen first places and slammed four events to give Notre Dame a decisive 77-54 trimming. Bill Faymonville beat his own Notre Dame record and set a new meet record when he heaved the discus 155 feet 4¾ inches, one of the best collegiate tosses of the entire season. Dan Gibbs with a 13 foot 6 inch leap and Steve Szumachowski with a 9:33 two mile both broke their own Notre Dame records. Although versatile Dan Gibbs scored his lucky 11 points again, Dave Albritton, Ohio State's colored star, topped him with a first and three seconds for 14 points.

In a heavy rainstorm at East Lansing which prevented record-breaking performances, MICHIGAN STATE nosed out the Irish by a 66½-64½ score. A pulled leg muscle which prevented Greg Rice from competing, possibly cost Notre Dame the meet. High point honors were shared by Faymonville who won the shot and the discus, Gibbs who won the pole vault and broad jump, and Springer of the Spartans who won both hurdle races. Notre Dame took eight first places including the relay and a slam in the shot put. Michigan State placed only seven times, but they slammed both hurdle events.

Although Notre Dame had the advantage of competing on home ground in the STATE MEET, Indiana broke four meet records and five field records piling up 73 points and far outdistancing the Irish who were second with 48. Indiana broke meet records with Collier's 9.6 hundred and :21 furlong, field records with Hicks's :48.7 quarter, Trutte's 1:54 half, and a 3:18.7 mile relay, and both meet and field records with Smith's 4:11 mile and Lash's 9:17 two mile. Bill Faymonville did some record breaking for Notre Dame with a 150 feet 3 inch toss in the discus. He also won the shot with a toss of 47 feet 7¾ inches.

In the Outdoor CENTRAL COLLEGIATE CONFERENCE MEET at Milwaukee, Indiana with 39 and Illinois with 29 both finished ahead of Notre Dame's 28. Bill Faymonville won both the shot put and the discus, John Francis finished second in the half mile, and Greg Rice finished third in the mile. Proof of the exceptional quality of the competition was given when Steve Szumachowski ran a brilliant 9:25 two mile, yet finished out of the money in eighth place. In the N. C. A. A. MEET at Berkeley, California, sophomores Greg Rice and Bill Faymonville scored 15 points between them to give Notre Dame ninth place. Faymonville got a sixth place with a toss of 148 feet 5 inches in the discus. Unsatisfied with his fourth place in the mile, Rice entered the second two mile of his life determined to win. He followed the pace of Bill Feiler of Drake for most of the race, passed him on the home stretch with a terrific 60 second final quarter, and broke the N. C. A. A. record of 9:16.7 by two and a half seconds.

In the first meet of the 1938 season Notre Dame's indoor track team served notice of its even spread of power when it stampeded MARQUETTE by a 73-31 score. As was expected Greg Rice with a 4:24 mile, Steve Szumachowski with a 9:3 two mile, and Dan Gibbs with a 13 foot pole vault all broke meet records. But Gibbs and Shurilla of Marquette scored two firsts and a second for 13 points apiece.

The Irish were very decisive about breaking the tie jinx that had haunted all other athletic contests between ILLINOIS and Notre Dame; the score was 80-24. Dan Gibbs set new Notre Dame, fieldhouse and meet records with a 13 foot 8¾ inch pole vault, and hit his lucky 11 points again to become high point man of the meet. Bill Clifford ran a splendid 6.2 sixty to tie the meet record set by Jack Elder in 1929.

Determined to avenge the decisive defeat INDIANA had given Notre Dame the previous year, the Irish traveled to Bloomington and swamped the strong Hoosier team by 55½-29½ score. A 4:12.8 mile and a 9:27 two mile by Olympic runner Tommy Deckard and a fluke win in the mile relay were the only victories Indiana could get. A tie for third in the high jump was all that kept Notre Dame from a clean sweep in the field events. John Francis climaxed the fine all-around performance of the Irish when he set a new Notre Dame record of 1:55.4 in the half mile.

DRAKE scored a moral victory on the "cute" little track in its own fieldhouse when Harrison Kohl beat Pete Sheehan by a foot in the final mile relay event and tied up the meet at 52-52. Several Irish stars slumped terribly after their splendid performance of the previous week at Indiana. Greg Rice, however, reversed the proceedings and came through with a new fieldhouse record of 4:23.2 in the mile and a victory in the two mile. John Francis, who finished second in the mile, found the unreasonably short rest of 25 minutes between the mile and the half insufficient and he failed to place in his specialty.

Coach John P. Nicholson took a small squad of fourteen men to newly inaugurated ILLINOIS RELAYS, a friendly affair in which no one keeps score. The only relay team to run for the Irish, the shuttle hurdle team of Lawrence, Morgan, Reidy, and Else, finished third behind Michigan and Emporia Teachers. In the special events Greg Rice won the 1500 meters, John Francis set a new meet record of 2:16 in the 1000 yard run, Bill Clifford won the 75 yard dash, and Bill Faymonville finished second to Big Ten Champion Bill Watson in the shot put.

In winning the indoor CENTRAL COLLEGIATE CONFERENCE championship, Notre Dame piled up the enormous total of 56 points, the highest in the history of the meet. Pittsburgh, second with 24½, and Michigan State, third with 23, could not have equalled the Irish if they had combined forces. Greg Rice set Notre Dame, fieldhouse, and meet records in coming through with his strong last-quarter kick to win the two mile in 9:19.5. John Francis won the mile in 4:20.5 and lost out by a foot to Johnny Woodruff in the 880. Dan Gibbs won the pole vault at 13 feet, and, for the first time all season, All-American Joe Beinor beat his own team mate, Bill Faymonville, to win the shot put with a heave of 47 feet 7½ inches. Faymonville was second, one inch behind.

Just as they had done against Drake, the team slumped after a particular "hot" week, and at the BUTLER RELAYS, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio State, and Pittsburgh were all ahead of Notre Dame when the final totals were tabulated. The four relay events counted double, and the Irish only placed third in the distance medley, fourth in the two mile, and fourth in the four mile. However, the times of the winner smashed records in each of these races. Dan Gibbs won the pole vault for the only Irish victory of the evening.

Five men from Notre Dame competed in the final meet of the indoor season, the star-studded CHICAGO DAILY NEWS MEET. John Francis won the 1000 yard run in 2:15 and Bill Clifford finished third behind Berrin Walker and Ben Johnson and ahead of Eulace Peacock in a sprint series of 40, 50, and 60 yard dashes. Dan Gibbs cleared 13 feet 6 inches but finished second to world record holder Earl Meadows in the pole vault.

Away back in 1915 Clarence J. (Jake) Kline started to play third base for the Notre Dame varsity. This was the beginning of a baseball career which has continued, with few interruptions, until the present time. In 1916 and 1917 he played for the Irish, batting well over .300 for all three years of college competition. The climax of his undergraduate career came in his junior year when he hit three home runs to lead the Irish in a 14-6 victory over Michigan. Turning down an offer from the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1918 he enlisted in the A.E.F. and went overseas. On his return in 1920 he was appointed director of athletics for the preparatory school which was then connected with Notre Dame. In 1922 he left his alma mater to become the playing manager of a baseball club in the Southern Minnesota League. The next year saw him playing in California, and from 1925 to 1930 he played with and managed several different clubs in the Utah State League. He returned to Notre Dame in 1931 as freshman baseball coach. During the next two years he acted as freshman baseball and football coach, holding, in addition an Assistant Professorship of Mathematics. In 1934 George Keogan resigned from his position as head baseball coach in order to devote all his time to basketball coaching. Jake Kline succeeded him, and has retained the post ever since. He has a four year record of 47 victories, and 26 defeats, for an average of .664.

The Fighting Irish opened their baseball season auspiciously enough, by playing hosts to CHICAGO, and then handing the Maroons a sound beating. Notre Dame pounded out 16 hits against three Maroon pitchers, Lawson, Amundson, and Reynolds. Starting with a 3 run splurge in the home half of the first, the Irish managed to score in every inning save two. Moir's four hits drove in five runs, and led the Irish in batting. Lefty Rydell struck out six Maroons in the first six innings and was relieved by Arboit in the seventh.

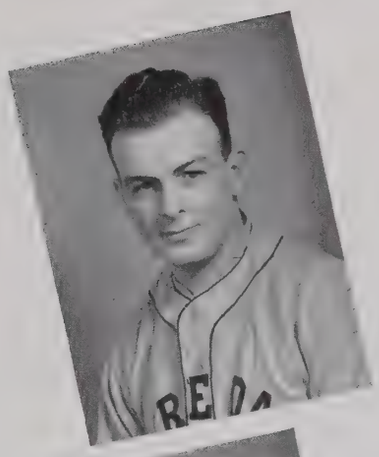

Meeting a somewhat more severe obstacle when they journeyed to Champaign, the Irish played through nine tough innings only to find the game tied up 4-4. However, they took advantage of a boot, two wild throws and Johnny Moir's single to get three runs across in the thirteenth. ILLINOIS came back and scored two in the home half, but with two men on base and two out Irish pitcher Johnny Goncher burned three fast ones past pinch hitter Connelly, and the game was over.

When the Irish went to visit CHICAGO, late in April, they found that the Maroons had prepared a rather unpleasant surprise for them. To retaliate for the drubbing which they took from the Irish earlier in the season, the Chicago outfit nicked Irish pitchers Goncher and Arboit for 9 hits while the Maroon ace Bob Reynolds was holding the Irish to 5. Notre Dame scored first on Borowski's homer in the second, but the Maroons soon settled things with three runs in the third and six more in the sixth.

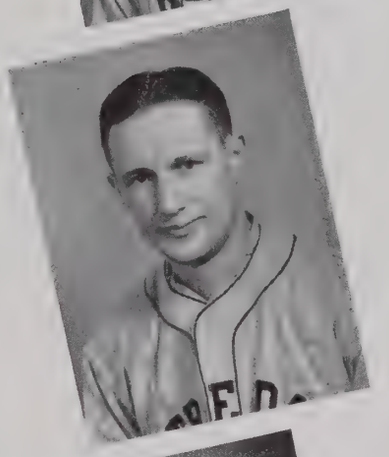

MICHIGAN STATE playing "heads-up" ball all the way evened the season record of the Irish at two and two. Michigan's hitting was particularly timely. The Spartans bunched their hits off Arboit to score two runs in each of the 5th, 6th, and 7th innings. Although Johnny Goncher, who relieved Arboit in the seventh, held State hitless for the last three innings, the damage had already been done, and it was too late to remedy the situation.

Notre Dame was next victimized by NORTHWESTERN, though the game was close all the way. The Irish scored their first and only runs in the first half of the fifth when Borowski singled and Larry Doyle, sophomore first baseman, drove him in with a homer. The Wildcats got one in the fifth and one in the sixth. There was no further scoring until the last of the ninth when singles by Larson and Woy, coupled with an error and a sacrifice put over the winning tally. Wildcat pitcher Roth struck out eight men, and allowed only five hits.

In a slugfest against WISCONSIN, the Irish were forced to go ten innings before they could clinch the victory. Notre Dame started off with two runs in the first. One in the third, two in the fourth and three in the seventh put the Irish five runs ahead. However, the Badgers got to Lefty Rydell for three runs in the seventh, and one each in the eighth and ninth to tie the score. Three hits in the first half of the tenth produced two Irish runs, while the best Badger effort only got one across. And thus did the Irish resume their winning ways.

Notre Dame's next encounter, with WESTERN STATE TEACHERS, was a very nip and tuck affair. The first three innings were scoreless. The Irish got one run in the fourth, and one in the sixth, but State tied it up in the seventh. Notre Dame went ahead again in the eighth, and in the first of the ninth, State again tied the score. Nardone, first up in the home half of the ninth, bounced to Vanderberg who threw wild to first. Puplis was safe when Peterson dropped his short pop-up. O'Neill sacrificed, but Moir flied to short right. Then Borowski smashed a grounder at Krueger, and the latter fumbled it allowing Nardone to score with the winning run.

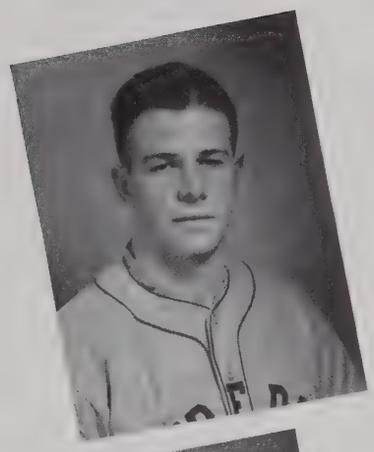

The Irish found little difficulty in winning the first of a two game series with the Traveling LOUISIANA TECH squad. Johnny Goncher pitched a steady game, holding the visitors to 7 hits, while his mates, notably O'Neill and Borowski, were pounding Stinnet for twice that many. The game was marked by numerous errors on both sides, the Irish having five against them, while Tech was guilty of four.

The second game of the series was very different, TECH pushing the Irish to their limit before yielding in the last of the ninth. Having tied the score in the eighth, Louisiana was unable to go ahead in their half of the ninth. However, when the Irish took their turn, Nardone started a rally by beating out an infield hit. Puplis sacrificed, but Borowski grounded to Burt. Moir and O'Neill then walked, and Doyle singled to center scoring Nardone with the winning tally. The batteries were Rydell, Arboit, Boyd, and Verhoestra, Kovzelove for Notre Dame; Lewis and Hewitt for Tech.

PURDUE fell before an onslaught of 18 Irish hits, while Captain Ennio Arboit was holding the Boilermakers to a meager two. Puplis' homer in the second with one on started the barrage of hits which did not stop until a parade of three Purdue pitchers had wended its way from bench to mound to showers.

The second game with WESTERN STATE TEACHERS demonstrated the effectiveness of the jinx which the Irish seem to have held over them for several years. Although State was an excellent team on paper, it had to be content with the lone tally scored in the last half of the first inning. Johnny Goncher pitched a five hit game for the Irish.

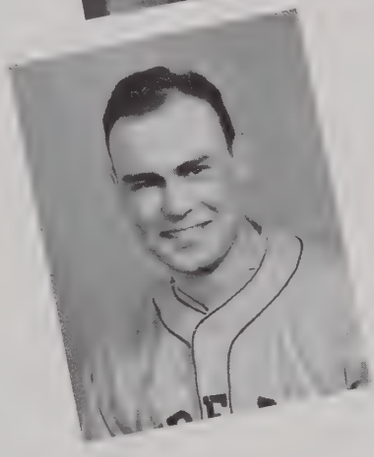

It was more of a track squad than a baseball team which swamped OHIO STATE in the first of the two game series on Cartier Field. Though the second game was rained out, the Irish had gathered enough markers in the first one to win several normal contests. Biggest of all was the seven run second inning which was started off when Joe O'Neill knocked a homer with the bases full. Arboit and Boyd held the Scarlet and Gray to nine hits while their mates were accumulating a 24 off Dogenhard, Galloway, and Edwards. Conquering PURDUE for the second time during the season, the Irish found the Boilermakers much tougher than their first encounter would have led them to believe. Purdue's ace sophomore hurler, Bredewater, held the Irish to two hits and one run for seven innings. But he weakened in the eighth, and Borowski's homer with two on gave the Irish a 4-1 victory.

MICHIGAN STATE laced Notre Dame for the second time during the season, but added injury to insult by snapping the Irish winning streak at eight games. Though Notre Dame outhit the Spartans eleven hits to eight, Puplis' four errors allowed State to bunch the majority of their runs in the second and the eighth, thus gaining a topheavy decision.

WISCONSIN came to Notre Dame late in May thirsting after revenge for being nosed out by the Irish earlier in the season. The Badgers found it to spare in the whitewashing which they handed the Irish, the first and only blanking which the Irish suffered all season. Only bright star in the blackness of the Irish despair was the brilliant fielding of Braddock who repeatedly raced back to make impossible one-handed stops on the grass.

Almost as sad was the Irish performance against IOWA in the first of the two-game series Commencement week-end. Larry Doyle, sturdy young first-sacker, got the lone Irish hit, a sharp single in the second inning. A sacrifice and a wild pitch scored him, but from then on, Manders pitched airtight ball, striking out seven Irish batters.

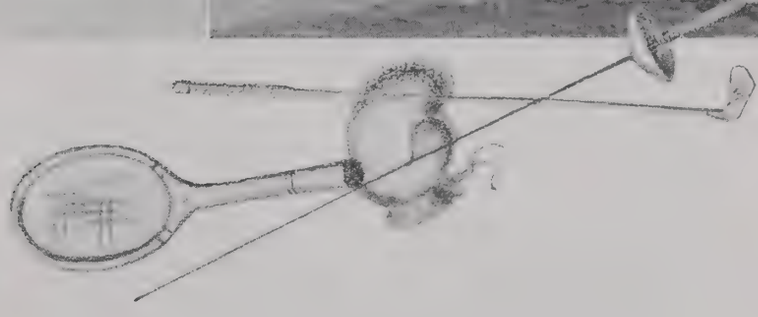

The last game against IOWA was another story. The Klinemen, playing on a wet field in a continuous drizzle of rain, helped Johnny Goncher keep the Hawkeyes to six hits by their errorless support. Iowa opened the scoring with two runs in the first of the sixth. The Irish came back with one in the eighth, but going into the last half of the ninth they were still one behind. Braddock led off with a triple to left, Borowski singled sending Braddock home tying the score. Moir was safe when he bunted, and Doyle sacrificed. Arboit, pinch hitting for Brennan, flied to deep left, but Borowski on third had taken a lead off, and by the time he went back to tag the base, it was too late to score. With O'Neill at bat Borowski started to steal home, O'Neill, however, bunted and was safe at first, Borowski scoring the winning run.

GOLF

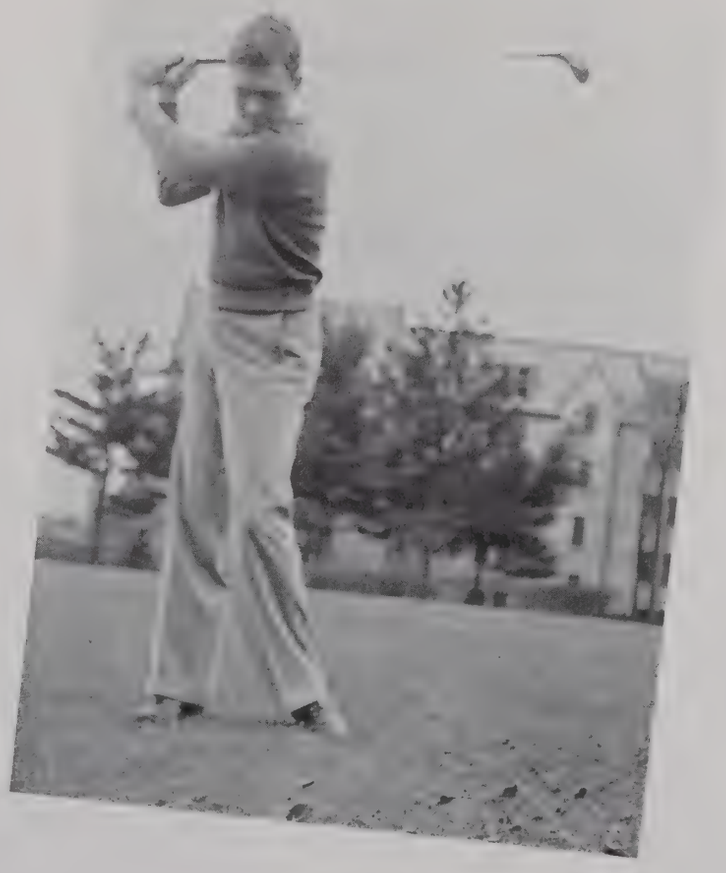

Besides winning the Indiana State championship, the 1937 Irish golf team hung up the enviable record of 7 victories, 2 ties and 2 defeats. Under the expert tutelage of Rev. George L. Holderith, C.S.C., golf coach, the Irish defeated such outstanding teams as Chicago, Ohio State, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Detroit, and Northwestern. Purdue and Wisconsin were the only teams to beat them, and Washington and Illinois were pushed to the limit to tie them. Outstanding individual performance of the year was Tom Sheehan's 299 which won him the trophy emblematic of the state individual championship. Monogram winners were Captain Lou Fehlig, Bill Castleman, Dan Donovan, Albin Mailhes, Gene Melbourn, and Tom Sheehan. Captain-elect Tom Sheehan is the only monogram earner to return this year.

TENNIS

In spite of the fact that they lost the majority of their meets, the Notre Dame tennists made a better showing than their predecessors have for several seasons. They beat Indiana, soundly trounced Purdue, and nosed out St. Louis. Chicago, Michigan State, and Northwestern defeated them. However the bright thing about the whole season was the showing of the sophomores, four of whom, Gregory, Reppenhagen, Simon, and Wolf, won their monograms. Other lettermen were Arnold, Fallon and Captain-elect Kilrain. Bill Fay, winner of the Fall Tournament, and Charley Rogers, along with the returning monogram men should make the 1938 squad the best in the history of tennis at Notre Dame.

FENCING

Although the loss of outstanding men in every event left the Irish fencing team in a very bad condition for 1938, the development of previously undiscovered material made the 1938 season one of the best in the history of the sport. Losing to Purdue in the opening meet did not discourage Coach de Landero, for his Irish bladesmen came back a week later to defeat a strong Detroit team. Chicago then accounted for the second Irish loss, but Notre Dame took the next six meets in a row. Ohio State, Lawrence Tech, Purdue, Wisconsin, Cincinnati, and Washington in that order, fell before the Irish swordsmen during the remaining part of the season. Captain Jack Zerbst made the best individual record on the team, winning 17 matches and losing three in addition to establishing a new Notre Dame record with 12 consecutive individual victories. Letter men on this year's squad were Pierre de la Vergne and Vic Mercado in the foils; Captain Zerbst, Captain-elect Sal Scarlata, and John Gavan, in sabre; and Charles Colgan, Burt McEneraney, and Jim Graham in epee. Of these Zerbst, Mercado, and de la Vergne are graduating seniors. The rest will form the nucleus of next year's squad.

BOXING

The seventh annual Bengal Boxing Tournament broke all standing records for attendance and interest. These 1938 Bouts saw eight university champions emerge from a field of seventy-five entrants in four hard nights of fighting. Two defending champions retained their crowns, Sam Dolce, bantamweight, and Jim Brown, junior welterweight. Champions in the other classes were Bob Sanford, flyweight; Tom O'Malley, lightweight; Dick Leahy, welterweight; Bob Ronstadt, middleweight; Bruce Hebenstreit, light heavyweight; and John Cavalier, heavyweight. Three thousand five hundred persons witnessed the finals on March 18th, and an aggregate crowd of twenty-five hundred was present on the nights of preliminaries. The tourney was managed by the Scholastic and the proceeds went to the Holy Cross Missions in Bengal, India. Vince Gurucharri, who lost in the finals to Sam Dolce, received the Sportmanship Trophy donated by the "Huddle."

GYM TEAM

The Notre Dame Gym Team is an organization of men, majoring in Physical Education who are particularly interested in and adept at the various gymnastic exercises which form a part of their curriculum. The organization is not competitive in the sense of entering meets against other schools. Rather the purpose is exhibition of the perfection of gymnastic exercises. Under the leadership of Captain George Sullivan, the 1937-38 Gym Team gave a series of exhibitions in numerous towns and cities throughout the Middle West, and were well received. The annual exhibition before the student body in Washington Hall was well attended and enthusiastically received. The captain-elect of the squad is Edward Broscoe.

THE 1938 DOME

From the very beginning we have planned to make the thirty-second issue of the DOME an untouched portrait of the campus. We have been informal because we think informality is the back drop of campus activity. And against this back drop we have sought to catch the campus on the march, from class . . . to town . . . on the sidelines . . . at the desk . . . in white tie . . . without tie. John Starkie snapped the shutter for the action pictures. Francis Kroeger did the fine copper etchings for the insert pages which introduce the sections. Tom Powers spiced the book with his intimate sketches in miniature. Mark Mitchell went into the locker-rooms for the accurate descriptions of Notre Dame athletics. "Tex" Shortall, Johnny Walsh and Bill Fay restyled the satire section to bring campus humor to the book pictorially. Bill Waters gave time and frequently his coat and tie to club members who crowded Washington Hall. We thank the younger staff members and hope next year they will have the assistance of a staff equally efficient.

SCHOLASTIC

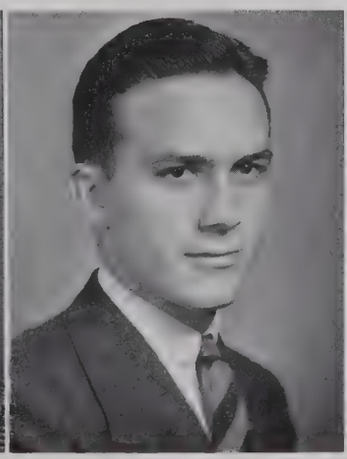

Again this year, Scholastic, the campus news-weekly, reported vigorously and accurately the events of the school year. Gene Vaslett and Louis DaPra commented forcibly upon campus affairs in pertinent editorials. Vince DeCoursey and his staff reviewed school news concisely. Hal Williams commented on the light, the humorous, the unusual in his sprightly column, "The Week." John Callaghan wielded his deadly scissors to pilfer witticisms from other collegiate papers. Mark Mitchell and his staff followed The Irish from green to gridiron. Fred Digby and Nick Lamberto wrote the sport features and John Clifford conducted "Splinters." Throughout twenty-six issues, Scholastic, maintained its high journalistic traditions.

SCRIP

CHARLES NELSON
Editor

This year Charles Nelson as editor has fulfilled the promise given by his many past contributions to Scrip. Fred Digby, Francis Cunningham and William Donnelly assisted him in editing and publishing the quarterly. Ed Kort designed the attractive cover and his sketchwork livened each issue. As in previous years Scrip presented the best literary work of student contributors. Fiction, poetry, literary and personal essays were blended to produce a magazine of variety and distinction. Proof of Scrip's merit was the increasing popularity of the quarterly about campus.

NOTRE DAME LAWYER

John E. DeMots
Editor-in-Chief

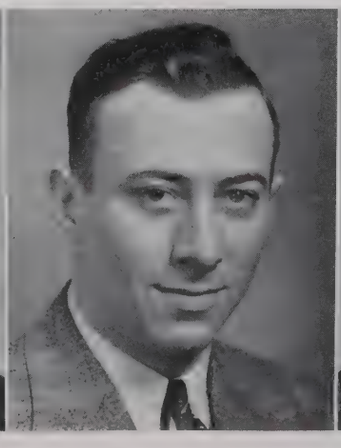

William F. Langley

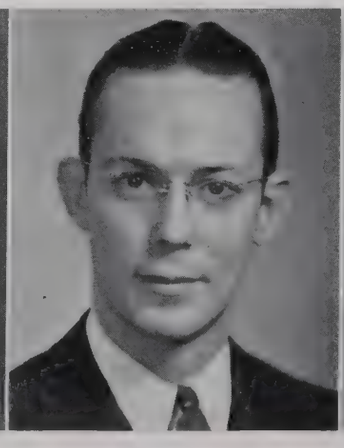

The Notre Dame Lawyer is a quarterly law review, published by the students of the College of Law. This year's issues clearly reflect the forethought and technical ability of Editor John DeMots and Business Manager Frank J. Smith. In forthright legal fashion, Lawyer presented condensations of all important legislation, cases and opinions, supplemented by contributions of the faculty, the students and practicing attorneys.

SANTA MARIA

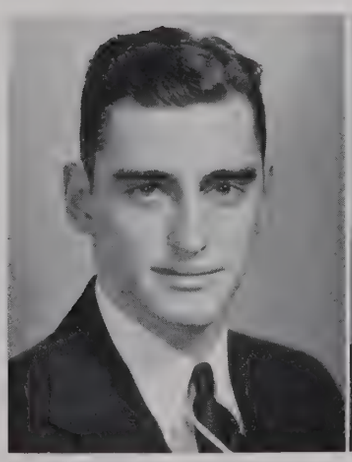

Louis Dunn
Editor

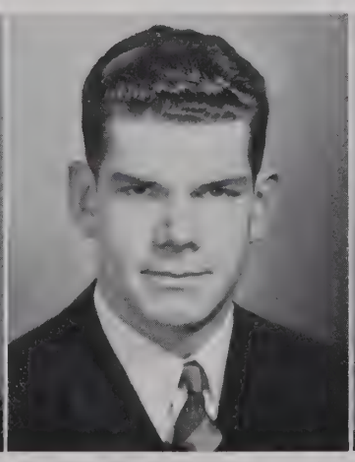

John Cottingham

The Santa Maria, official publication of the Knights of Columbus Council No. 1477, was developed and enlarged this year by Editor Louis Dunn. Present plans call for the continuation of the thirty-two page quarterly which was introduced this year. Contributors to Santa Maria include student members, faculty, and distinguished men throughout the country. Assisting in the editing this year were John Cottingham, William Branigan, Thomas Hogan, Robert Leonard and John Borgman.

Catalyzer, monthly publication of the Department of Chemistry, again presented concisely current topics of scientific interest. Editors Mehring and Moorman with their assistants Schlaudecker and Kerwin brought enthusiasm to a difficult task. They reported scientific matters accurately and in a manner sprightly and interesting. Catalyzer contained contributions from students, faculty, and graduates as well as digests of vital research from authoritative publications.

THE ALUMNUS

For graduates the Notre Dame Alumnus is a monthly album of pleasant memories spiced with pertinent athletic and scholastic news. Each month six thousand copies of the Alumnus leave the offices of Editor James E. Armstrong, '25, and Managing Editor William R. Dooley, '26. Each issue is a comprehensive survey of the Notre Dame month. William E. Cotter, President of the Alumni Association, discusses current Alumni problems and Joseph F. Petritz reviews the athletic activities of the Irish. That a magazine of Alumnus' stature can be published monthly is indicative of the efficiency and capability of its staff.

DRAMATICS

Thomas E. Mills

The reorganized Dramatic club has this year won for itself new campus prestige. Under the direction of Mr. Thomas E. Mills, this group won instant acclaim with its professional presentation of "Journey's End." The final performance of this play was the most successful the campus has seen in years and the enthusiastic audience registered vigorous appreciation. "Journey's End" was but the culmination of a series of outstanding productions. During the year the club also presented numerous one-act plays all distinguished by superb direction and acting. Among these were "Moonshine," "Refund," and "Dark of the Dawn." The entire campus applauds the achievements of these men and looks forward with pleasure to their future productions.

MONOGRAM ABSURDITIES

The greatest show of the year, the Monogram Absurdities, were presented under Jim Quinn more absurd and incongruous than ever. Produced by the Monogram Club, it featured broad-shouldered, massive-thighed athletes in clever, intricate routines. Under the influence of a few weeks of practice, they were transformed into a light-footed, sylph-like group. Chick O'Brien was master of ceremonies. Larry Doyle and Chuck Sweeney gave expression to a skit written by Francis Wallace. The inevitable chorus featuring Denny Emanuel, Pat McCarty, Ed Simmonich, Andy Puplis, and Jos. Thesing gave a light touch to the revue. Mike Mandjiak's quartet and Art Davidson's group continued the high plane of the acts.

AFFIRMATIVE

Left to right. Leo Hanlon, John Tobin, coach, Walter Johnson, Albert Schmitz.

The varsity debating team enjoyed its usual successful season during 1937-38. While participating in the usual number of debates, Notre Dame won fourteen out of twenty decision debates and in addition participated in five non-decision debates. Debaters traveled to the universities of Iowa, St. Ambrose, Wisconsin, and Michigan State. At the Manchester tournament both the "A" and "B" squads participated and won eighteen out of twenty-two debates. The "A" affirmative consisting of Frank Fitch and Albert Funk won five out of six; the "A" negative, Thomas Mulligan and Charles Osborn, won six out of six. The "B" affirmative consisting of Francis Parks and Milton Williams won four out of five, while the "B" negative, Charles Colgan and Wilson Crandall, won three out of five. Victories over Purdue and Northwestern were included among these. The question debated by the varsity was, "Resolved: that the National Labor Relations Board should be empowered to enforce arbitration of all industrial disputes." The team was coached by Professor William J. Coyne.

RADIO

The rapid development of the Radio Club is responsible to Rev. Eugene Burke, C.S.C., who supervised production during the year. Following the plans of the previous year, new programs were added, periods lengthened, and the scope of broadcasts was widened. Walter Hagen, Jr. was program director. Of particular interest was the fine spirit of advance shown by the sophomore members. Under the direction of President Art Mulhern, they took great interest and carried the weight of carrying on the precedent. Having now developed into a well-integrated unit, this club is expanding into one of the most active and worth while campus groups.

Commentators

Countess Clara de Chambrun

Countess Clara de Chambrun delivered two interesting lectures on the "Poaching Incident" and "The Romance of Shakespeare's Sonnets." Countess de Chambrun gave proof of this incident through documentary evidence consisting mainly of a satirical ballad written by Shakespeare. The second lecture was on "The Romance of Shakespeare's Sonnets." The English poet's early career was summarized as recorded by Thomas Thorpe in 1609.

One of the most interesting lecturers of the year was Rev. Michael de Sanctis, Missionary Apostolic of the El Paso, Texas, diocese. Before a large audience, he told of the deplorable conditions existing in Mexico. Fully informed of the new and more subtle methods now used by the Mexican government to crush Catholicism, he exposed their present technique—that of depriving Catholics of Catholic education. He described how Mexican nuns and priests are heroically circumventing these atheistic tactics by going in disguise to Catholic homes to instruct children in the Catholic faith.

Fr. Michael de Sanctis

Dr. Waldemar Gurrian

Dr. Waldemar Gurrian, faculty member, world-recognized authority of European affairs, and author of such well-known works as "Bolshevism, Theory and Practice", "The Future of Bolshevism", and "Hitler and the Christians", delivered a series of brilliant and timely lectures. He evaluated the drifts in the balance of power in Europe and the underlying principles of these drifts, and showed how the German annexation of Austria and the increased activity in Spain will have a tremendous effect on the old pre-Hitler balance.

Mrs. Maisie Ward Sheed, one of the foremost Catholic woman apologists, delivered a delightfully human lecture when she spoke of her late friend, G. K. Chesterton. She discussed two aspects of Mr. Chesterton—that of G. K., the man, and that of G. K., the symbol of a great Catholic intellectual movement. She said that he was mainly instrumental in starting a new era of Catholic intellectual and literary interest, and that the revival of Catholic letters is evidenced by the growing list of Catholic works in libraries all over the world.

COMMENCEMENT DAY 1937

Joseph P. Grace

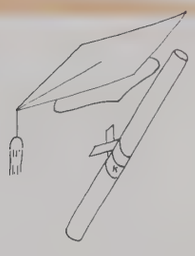

Four hundred and seventy members of the Class of 1937 were awarded degrees at the 93rd Commencement exercises of the University of Notre Dame held at the University fieldhouse. The three-day program was opened by the Rev. John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., with an address in Washington Hall. Richard Meier delivered the valedictory address Saturday morning. A baseball game with the University of Iowa and the Annual Alumni Golf Tournament took place Saturday afternoon, followed by the Alumni Banquet that evening. Commencement on Sunday began with the academic procession to the Fieldhouse where the Baccalaureate Mass was celebrated by the Most Rev. John F. Noll, D.D., Bishop of Fort Wayne. The Baccalaureate sermon was preached by the Most Rev. Karl J. Alter, D.D., Bishop of Toledo, Ohio. The raising of the senior flag followed. The University conferred the Degree of Doctor of Laws, honoris causa, on: Most Rev. Karl J. Alter, D.D., Mr. William S. Calcott of Wilmington, Delaware, and Joseph P. Grace of New York, N. Y.

LAETARE MEDAL

DR. IRVIN ABELL

"The merit of Dr. Abell, in his profession, has been signally recognized by his election to the Presidency of the American Medical Association and his varied service to city and state as surgeon, citizen, soldier, and Christian gentleman. . . . " These words of Father O'Hara, C.S.C., tell very well why Dr. Irvin Abell of Louisville, Kentucky, was the recipient this year of the Laetare Medal, bestowed annually since 1883 by the University of Notre Dame upon an outstanding member of the Catholic Laity. Recent medalists include the Hon. Alfred E. Smith, former governor of New York state, John McCormack, and Frank Hamilton Spearman, noted Catholic novelists. Dr. Abell is a distinguished addition to a distinguished body of Catholic laity.

WASHINGTON DAY EXERCISES

The seniors, the five hundred sixty-one of them in cap and gowns, marched down the historic steps of the Main Building for the first time, walked to Washington Hall, assisted in the 41st annual Washington Day Exercises. Professor Clarence E. Manion addressed the audience on "The Soul of the Constitution." Thomas P. Mulligan then delivered an oration on "Washington and the College Man," followed by Chester A. Soleta, C.S.C., who read an original ode. In conclusion John C. O'Connor, president of the Senior Class presented the traditional senior flag to the Rev. Hugh O'Donnell, C.S.C., Vice-President of the University. The presentation completed the Seniors arose, left the hall, carefully packed cap and gowns to be worn once more at graduation.

MEMORIAL DAY

"God, Country, Notre Dame" reads the inscription under the Tympanum of the arch before which each year Notre Dame gathers in Memorial Day Mass to honor her sons whose lives have been given to that ideal.

S. A. C.

Under the leadership of Scott Reardon the Student Activities Council again co-operated with University authorities in supervising student activities. Busiest autumn organization on campus, S.A.C. organized the torchlight parades and pep meetings which aroused campus spirit before important football games. S.A.C. members handled all details of the successful student trip to Minnesota. All class elections were rigidly supervised by S.A.C. officers. These were the more evident activities of the Council. Throughout the year in their weekly meetings the Student Activities Council quietly and efficiently administered undergraduate affairs.

KNIGHTS OF

Planning constructively, the Notre Dame chapter of the Knights of Columbus progressed rapidly this year, enrolling new members, sponsoring a fuller social program, enlarging and remodeling the Council Chambers in the basement of Walsh Hall. The year marched by placidly for the Knights. Quarterly Communion Breakfasts provided periodic escape from the Sunday morning cafe-line scrambles; football and news reel pictures lightened the weekly business meetings; informal after-the-football-game dances culminated in the annual Formal, a social and artistic success under the direction of Grand Knight James Quinn and Co-Chairmen Edmond Haggar and Richard Jenney. The annual picnic went off as planned to climax a successful year. Financially, the Knights marched ahead in their program to erect a permanent home for the Council and a memorial to the Order. Over a seventeen year period a sum in excess of $45,000 has been accumulated. With a steadily increasing membership the Council hopes to realize in the near future their dream of two decades.

The Wranglers form the finest forensic society on the campus. Organized eleven years ago they meet weekly to discuss current social, economic, and political problems. Their meetings observe parliamentary procedure with a formal presentation of a problem, followed by debate from the floor. Although research and discussion form the greatest part of the Wranglers' activities, the club also sponsors annually an Interhall Debating Contest. Each of the residence halls is represented by a debating team coached by one of the Wranglers, and eliminations debates are held until only two teams remain. The final debate, held at St. Mary's College, determines the winner, and entitles that hall to possession of the Lemmer trophy for one year. Frank Fitch was chairman of this year's program. In the spring the Wranglers direct the Catholic High School Oratorical contest. Representatives of the various Catholic High Schools of Michigan, Illinois, and Indiana are sent to Notre Dame, and the winner is chosen by a committee selected by the Wranglers.

A medal is awarded to each of the contestants appearing in the finals, in respect to their finishing order, and a trophy is presented to the school represented by the winning contestant. The Chairman of this year's successful contest was Francis Parks. These numerous activities attract many applicants to the Wranglers each year and from these a few are accepted into membership. The men inducted this year were: Francis Parks, William McVay, Vincent DeCoursey, Jerome O'Dowd, John O'Day and Albert Funk.

The Bookmen, a literary organization of upperclassmen, has as its primary aim the evaluation of the philosophies of outstanding authors and the fostering of a proper standard of criticism. Round table discussions are held at their bi-monthly meetings. Infrequent gatherings at the home of Moderator R. Boyer Campbell and a banquet at the end of the year for graduating members round out the activities of the Bookmen.

Undergraduates who have a better than average scholastic rating compose the Patricians, a group vitally interested in the classical spirit. Their purpose is to perpetuate this heritage on campus. This they achieve by weekly meetings at which pertinent topics are discussed and by regularly scheduled broadcasts by members from the campus radio studios.

"I'm not the first in the family to choose Belgin... not by fifty years!"

says RUSSEL NOEL KING, JR.
Notre Dame '65

Steady, hard-riding No. 3! He helped win the Middle West Low Goal Championship for Notre Dame . . . was acting captain of the 1965 team . . . received Notre Dame's coveted trophy for outstanding distinction in sports.

Today aggressive young Russel Noel King is making fine headway in the business world. Apparently he finds minutes just as important now as they were on the polo field.

"Fifty years ago, father started the Belgin tradition in our family," writes Mr. King. "Since then my two brothers and I have become Belgin owners."

Mr. King further writes, "The money I saved on razor blades bought me my first Belgin," (note sloppy mustache above). "I am as proud of my Belgin as I was of my first mustache."

Only a Belgin could stand up under the killing pace set by Mr. King (Noel to his friend). Whether riding off an opposing No. 3 in a savage chukker, surf boarding at Waikiki, or breaking toast, a Belgin is always at Mr. King's wrist.

Noel is typical of the young smart set who find Belgins indispensable. All Notre Dame men who desire to emulate Mr. King are invited to joins this exclusive Belgin set.

To introduce our FOND MEMORIES ISSUE we present this typical picture of 1938 Notre Dame on a Sunday afternoon. Before the modern weekend whirl of "splash" parties in the recently-completed Rockne Memorial, tea-dancing to top-notch bands in Stevenson Rec, and exciting chukkers in the stadium formerly used for football, students of two decades ago flocked townward in search of amusement. A reminder of the past is the now almost forgotten Sample Street Car: A link with the present is the familiar mud puddle.

The Old Familiar Faces...

PAPPY MULDERIG: Then as now the present Tammany Sachem and former professor of Practical Politics drilled his stooges in the "3 P's" of Politics. "Promise-Promise-Promise."

ED. O'CONNOR AND JOE McDERMOTT: They wore each others socks, used their friend's book, smoked anything, lunged convincingly for the Oliver check.

WALT HAGEN: Successful commentator before television. He cam-pained to make football players buy their own suits.

Born before his time "STAY-OUT" SCHLITZ was "laked" for imprudently advertising his room as a place of study.

CANNONBALL" LONGON: Athletic tragedy of 1938. The United States Lawn Tennis Association in executive session ruled that "Cannonball's" years of service as St. Mary's Champion and mainstay of the mixed-doubles team made him ineligible for future intercollegiate competition. However, "Cannonball" good sport that he was re-rallied loyally and coached Bill Fay, '40, and Frank Heppenhagen, '39, aces of the N. D. team, which enjoyed its usual season.

"TARZAN" ROSS: Last of the playboys, he was continually endearing himself to one and all by his whimsical capers. No better example could be found than the above snapshot showing him wowing the onlookers with a daring and original interpretation of the "Big Apple".

Then as now the top social event of the year was the presentation of a silver loving cup to the Lake Charmer chosen most beautiful by the boys from Badin Bog.

A Star was born in '38 . . .

"Where's Elmer?"

"Where's Noah?"

"But I was All-State."

"What would the folks think."

IN GRATEFUL REMEMBRANCE to those hardy pioneers of yesteryear who risked their virile reputations in originating those stimulating activities which now engage the campus, the DOME respectfully dedicates this series.

TO "WHACK" DEMPSEY who brought into campus vogue the "Body Beautiful." Starting from scratch (above) he observed a Spartan-like program of total abstinence, strenuous calisthenics and twenty-three hours of sleep per day. To all generations of Notre Dame men, he will be remembered and the slogan "A feeble mind in a flabby body."

TO "PINKERTON" WALSH who founded the Notre Dame Protective Association and whose motto "Keep the wolves from our door" is the keystone of that intrepid body of men now guarding our most dangerous frontier.

Starting in the classroom (above), ALBERT J. LEIPHART, founder of the honor system, was the most daring pioneer of them all. From the very start, he bucked tradition by refusing to use a crib and insisting upon making his own bed. It was tough for a while but his success is demonstrated by our modern setup in which 63% is a passing mark and the maid system is a thing of the past.

TO SMOOTH SCOTTY REARDON, S.A.C. (Sweet, Acceptable, Cavalier) who upon being picked by the lake-swellers as "the most charming man" started the "heart-on-the-sleeve" club. This organization has developed, in our day, into the most exclusive campus group. Distinguished by a vivid red heart sewed on the right sleeve, and noted for its annual bunko party, this circle is indeed a credit to its founder.

The Tale of a Fish.....

"Where was the interference?" . .

"Oh well, Condon started out this way"

HIS STEADY NERVES
ARE FROM SMOKING

BAMELS

"I was a fag fiend," says J. ALBERT VAN HUFFEL III, Notre Dame '69, "and tried to steady my nerves by smoking Bamels. Unfortunately, I bummed one too many and now I'm so steady I can't move."

Mr. J. Albert Van Huffel III is only one of thousands of fortunate smokers the country over who have found that "BAMELS STEADY YOUR NERVES".

Old Familiar Faces . . .

A throw-back to the cave-man type, this low-pocketed Lochinvar, Paul Psik, talked through four years at the old Notre Dame on his stage acquaintances. Above is an old cut showing the now famous screen lover.

This soda-fountain gallant, "Wally-Walgreen" Von Hoene, once ruled in oriental splendor over the "small-coke" harem.

UNIVERSAL NOTRE DAME NIGHT

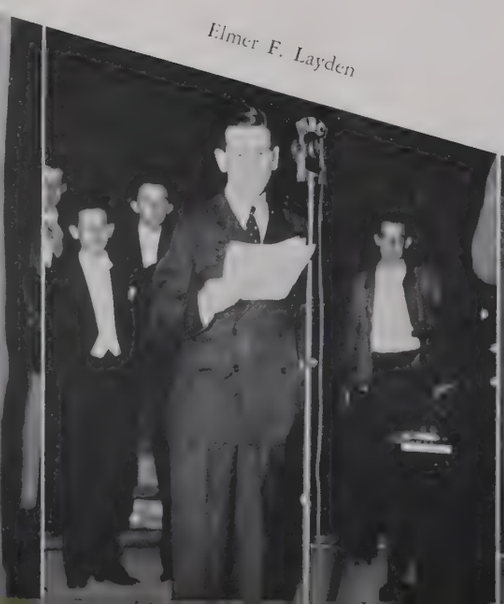

The fifteenth annual Universal Notre Dame Night was celebrated by alumni in the earth's four corners on April 25th. Broadcasts were carried by stations from coast to coast. Rev. John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., president, broadcast from an alumni banquet in Washington, D. C.; from the campus Elmer Layden spoke; and John McCormack, noted Irish tenor, sang from the N. B. C. studios in Hollywood, California.

It has been a pleasure for us to work with the graduate manager and the competent 1938 Dome staff.*

Our Congratulations

To the Editor and his competent staff on having planned and produced this fine 1938 DOME.

It was indeed a pleasure for us to have been associated with this efficient group of young men as their official Photographers.

For having given us the opportunity to work with another DOME staff we sincerely thank the University.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS....

Now that you have read through the 1938 Dome, we wish to inform you that our task was lightened through the kindness of friends. To them we are especially indebted:

Mr. Thomas P. King and Mr. Raymond E. McGrath, '37, of the Premier Engraving Co. for their invaluable assistance and co-operation.

Mr. Hervey L. MacCowan for his very capable aid in the planning of the book.

Mr. George H. Petersen of the Wisconsin Cuneo Press, Inc., for his valuable assistance.

Mr. James B. Blaine of the John F. Cuneo Co., for his splendid assistance.

Mr. Theo. Jena and Mr. C. David Rex of the Bagby Photo Co., for their fine photography and pleasurable co-operation in photography production.

Mr. Kenneth Cooley of the David J. Molloy Plant.

The members of the 1938 Dome staff. Without their invaluable aid, this '38 Dome would not have been published. We fully appreciate and thank them for their untiring, unfailing co-operation.
